The AFL social inclusion and equality resource has been developed by the Cultural Strategy & Education unit within the AFL to assist community football clubs around Australia in providing education to their players on the issues of social inclusion and equality in sport. The resource consists of 4 clips and an accompanying resource. Each clip features a football related personality discussing issues that have impacted them personally.

Jason Ball, an openly gay community footballer, Joel Wilkinson, a former Gold Coast Suns player, Simon Hogan, a former Geelong Cats player, and Peta Searle, St Kilda Assistant Coach, each share their experiences relating to issues such as homophobia, racism, mental illness and gender equality.

The clips and accompanying resource can be found on the AFL Respect and Responsibility webpage. The clip on homophobia and the clip on racism can be found under Vilification and Discrimination, the clip on Gender Equality can be found under Respectful Relationships and the clip on Mental Health can be found under Mental Health. Alongside each clip, you will find a resource that provides information on how to present the education in your club, key questions to discuss, the key messages to get across and a fact sheet on the selected topic.

The clips featured in this resource are being used to educate and raise awareness across the AFL industry on equality and social inclusion.

PLAYER EDUCATION: HOW TO RUN A SESSION IN YOUR CLUB

- Decide which clips you want to show.
- Read over the fact sheet, discussion points and key messages of the clips you have chosen and familiarise yourself with the content. Think about the questions you may get asked.
- Prepare any materials you need in advance – e.g. paper, pens, butcher’s paper and markers.
- Organise a space for the session. Make sure it is private and without distractions, such as the club rooms.
- If you think you need some support, request assistance from a local community worker/social worker/school teacher etc. to assist.
- Allow enough time to work through each session. At least 20 minutes is recommended per clip. 5 minutes to show the clip and 15-20 minute discussion time. Also allow enough time for questions from participants.
RESPONDING TO DISCLOSURES/SUPPORT SERVICES

It is very important to ensure that you have relevant support services referral information and phone numbers to pass onto your participants. National support services are listed under each topic in this resource but you may want to identify local support services in your area.

When facilitating the sessions:

Begin the session with a group agreement around respect. Four or five group rules are usually enough and may include;

- Confidentiality – nothing leaves the room
- Listening and not interrupting
- Showing respect for other people’s comments and opinions
- Using third person - not telling personal stories
- Choose how much to participate - it’s ok to pass on questions or opt out

Facilitator tips:

- Continually throw questions to the group. If, as a facilitator, you are asked a question, don’t always answer it yourself. Throw the question to the group, and allow that to spark or continue to drive discussion
- Occasionally somebody might say something that stops you in your tracks. It is important to stay calm and address the comment with respect. If possible, try to suggest an alternate viewpoint or throw it to the rest of the group. It is important not to enter into a public argument.
- If you get a question that you don’t know the answer to, don’t panic. Admit that you don’t know the answer. You do not want to lie or invent information that isn’t true, as you lose all credibility. Reassure the person that you will follow up with them regarding the question after the session and that an answer will be provided in due time.
- At the end of the session provide an opportunity for participants to follow up with yourself to provide information regarding support services, referrals and websites.
GENDER EQUALITY

DISCUSSION POINTS

- Do you think there is a place for female coaches in the AFL or community football club system?
- What do you think a female coach could bring to your club?
- What do you think is stopping a female coach being employed at an AFL club?

KEY MESSAGES

- Females don’t have to possess masculine traits in order to succeed in male dominated industries.
- Women bring different insights and experiences to the football industry.
- Sexism still exists in the community and can make the career progression of females in various industries much more difficult.
FACT SHEET

- Peta Searle was the first female coach ever of a VFL team in Australia and in June 2014 became an assistant coach at St Kilda.
- There are currently around 95,000 women playing Australian Rules football in Australia.
- 1500 accredited female coaches.
- 35% of AFL members are women.
- 42% of national TV audience are women.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GENDER AND SEX?

- Sex is biological and someone is generally born as male or female. Gender describes the characteristics that a society or culture describes as masculine or feminine.
- Gender stereotypes are the generalisations about the roles of each gender and the different behaviours, clothing and personality etc. that are expected from men and women. Gender stereotypes generally suggest that men should be masculine and women should be feminine and this can negatively impact both men and women.
- Gender inequality refers to unequal treatment or perceptions of individuals based on their gender. This treatment and perception can impact jobs, employment opportunity, finances and social factors. Gender inequality is believed to be the primary cause of violence against women, as some men believe women are inferior to them, just because they are women, and should be submissive and be controlled by men.
- Research suggests that those men who perpetrate violence against women believe and adhere to gender stereotypes and believe women are inferior to men.

GENDER STEREOTYPES

The below examples outline some traditional attitudes and behaviours relating to gender that are considered risky and lead to unhealthy relationships between men and women.

For women
- Women clean, cook and look after the children.
Women should earn less money than men and don’t need an education
Women should be feminine and emotional and shouldn’t have jobs such as a mechanic or truck driver, or play masculine sports

For Men
Men are strong and good at sports, like fishing, camping and being outdoors.
Men should be in charge of a relationship
Men don’t cook, clean, sew or do crafts and do not get emotional
